THE BANK OF NORTH CAROLINA.

CHARLOTTE, Nov. 19, 1868.

I offer my absence from home as an apology to my friend, Geo. W. Mordecai, late President of the Bank of North Carolina, for my seeming want of respect for, or due appreciation of, the advertisement he was kind enough to favor me with in the "Raleigh Sentinel" some weeks since. My friend, Mr. Mordecai, is mistaken if he thinks that "by any personal controversy with me he can shield himself from the just indignation of his Stockholders, at the manner in which he has bankrupted the Bank and thereby destroyed the value of their stock. I shall not trouble the public much with any difference between Mr. Mordecai and myself as to our individual transactions; but I shall, as a stockholder of the Bank of North Carolina, call for an investigation of the manner in which Mr. Mordecai, and his Board of Directors, have squandered my stock, as well as that of other stockholders. As to Mr. Mordecai's charge that the fact of his sending gold to New York, and having it converted into United States Bonds, being reported to the stockholders in June, and being then approved by them, every stockholder at that meeting knows that this statement is not true. Mr. Mordecai, at that meeting, gave the stockholders no satisfactory information about the Bank. He held in his hand a paper that was supposed to be his report, but did not read it, and when the Secretary of the meeting, supposing it to be his report, reached out his hand for the paper, Mr. Mordecai withdrew it. I submit, that it is ungenerous towards the stockholders for Mr. Mordecai to attempt to saddle them with this great blunder of his. Why send this gold to New York, when gold was worth more in North Carolina than in New York? Mr. Mordecai could but know that every Banker in North Carolina bought gold in New York to sell for a profit at home! If necessary to send the gold to New York, it certainly was not necessary to permit the bonds to remain for months in New York, liable to attachment, and this too after Mr. Mordecai had been warned by an attempt once before to attach the funds of the Bank in New York. From the manner in which the Bank has been managed, as I will show in this communication, for the exclusive benefit of Mr. Mordecai and his friends, it looks like this fund was placed in New York in order that it might be attached by some of Mr. Mordecai's friends, and, unluckily for them, just before the apple was fully ripe, it fell into other hands, and hence the trouble!—As to the allegation that I am the owner of the bills, &c., this can make but little difference to the stockholders whether A or B attached the funds; the fault is in Mr. Mordecai, who, unnecessarily, exposed them. The attaching party but exercised a legal right, often exercised by the Bank of North Carolina. Our Court dockets have always been filled with suits of the Banks against the people. Then the Banks were plaintiffs; now, since the tables are turned, and the Banks are fed out of the same spoon that they so long fed the people with, there is a great outcry. The Banks have often sold for debt the poor man's plough horse and the milch cow, and now let the same justice be meted out to them that they so relentingly measured out to the people.

Friend Mordecai, how cruel it is in you to try to array your stockholders against me, when you know so well that, as the agent of your Bank, I have made raids on other Banks in this State, and that we have been together in these raids, hand and glove; you standing in the background and receiving without any compunctions of conscience your part of these "ill-gotten gains." If you deny this, let Yanceyville and Wadesboro speak! Then, it was all right in me and all very nice; but now, the case is changed—my friend Mordecai's ox is gored this time.

As to Mr. Mordecai's statement about compromises, this he has misrepresented.—Fortunately for me, all of the propositions for compromise were submitted in writing. Mr. Mordecai can publish these letters if he desires, and I request him to do so—the only condition I impose is that he publish all and not a part, for "thereby hangs a tale' that Mr. Mordecai will not unfold.

Having disposed of Mr. Mordecai's charges, I, as a stockholder, demand that Mr. Mordecai and his Directors call a meeting of the stockholders to investigate the mismanagement of the Bank. Let it be known why Mr. Mordecai was so patriotic as to invest so much of the Stockholders' money in worthless paper and so careful not to invest his own means in the same way. If my friend will pardon the illustration, it reminds one of the noisy, patriotic politician who enlisted all of his able bodied relations for the front and failed to volunteer himself. Let it be known why it was that near four hundred thousand dollars of gold on hand at the close of the war, was not sold when gold was worth fifty per cent. premium, thus saving hundreds of thousands of dollars to the stockholders. A "National Bank" could have been started with a capital of six hundred thousand dollars, with branches located in the State where the Bank heretofore had branches, which would have supplied our people with currency, and by this time the debts of the Bank could have been paid off and the stock been worth something handsome. Yet, instead of either of these courses, the gold, or a part of it, was placed in the hands of a few of Mr. Mordecai's friends, who have been using it without interest. Let it be known where this money has been that has been bringing the stockholders no interest. Let the twenty or thirty thousand dollars of expenses since the surrender be looked into. Let it be seen who has grown fat whilst the stockholders have starved. It is said that these Directors—"honorable men" as they themselves say they are—served before the war without compensation. Then the stockholders received dividends; since the war these Directors vote themselves pay and vote the stockholders no dividends. Let all be known about that splendid financial operation by which Mr. Mordecai and his Directors, large stockholders in the Bank of the State of North Carolina, paid themselves, from the assets of the Bank of North Carolina, par value, for a deposit of over sixty thousand dollars, due the Bank of the State of North Carolina before the war; at the same time Mr. Mordecai refusing to pay other depositors more than twenty-five cents in the dollar.—At the same time these Directors compromised a suit against the Bank of the State for four forty thousand dollars, paying eighty cents in the dollar for the bills. If you could do no better with this deposit, Mr. Mordecai, why did you not pay the eighty cents for these bills and turn them over to the Bank of the State in payment of this deposit? This would have saved the stockholders of the Bank of North Carolina twenty per cent, but it would have been a loss to the stockholders of the Bank of the State of North Carolina, to wit: Messrs. Mordecai and Directors, twenty per cent. Other parties have been paid, by Mr. Mordecai, par for claims against the Bank. I deem it unnecessary to mention names.

Let it be known why it was that Messrs. Mordecai and Directors, stockholders in the Bank of the State of North Carolina, sold to themselves, as Directors of the Bank of North Carolina, real estate in the city of Raleigh, at a price more than its cash value—property that the Bank of North Carolina had no use for—thereby being taken from the assets of the Bank of North Carolina and paid to the Bank of the State of North Carolina. Let it be known why it was that Mr. Mordecai, after paying himself and friends par for their claims against the Bank, without consulting his stockholders, by voluntary petition placed the Bank into bankruptcy. Mr. Mordecai had four months to consider, yet in all that time did not consult his stockholders.—Whether bankruptcy was proper or not, is not the question—stockholders have rights, yet, in this most important act of the Bank, Mr. Mordecai has entirely ignored the views of his stockholders. I venture the assertion that this extraordinary assumption of power by Mr. Mordecai and his Directors, to jeopardize the interests of hundreds in North Carolina, without even notifying or consulting them, cannot be approved of by his stockholders.

I charge that the Bank was placed in bankruptcy to tax the stockholders with enormous fees for assignees and attorneys' amounting to thirty or forty thousand dollars, and to throw these fees into the hands of the same parties who have grown fat on the Bank since the surrender.

I notify the stockholders and the creditors that these same parties will try to control the appointment of assignee; watch out for letters and circulars to that effect. Now, friend Mordecai, in conclusion, let me suggest to you that you gratify me by calling a meeting of the stockholders. I will promise to meet you there, and if I have done you injustice you will have a fair opportunity to set yourself aright.

With very high respect, your friend,
Nov. 25 4t R. Y. McADEN.

To the German Population of North and South Carolina.

ON OR BEFORE the first of February next, (provided 500 subscribers are obtained by that time,) the undersigned proposes to issue from the Daily Messenger office, a live "GERMAN" Weekly newspaper, to be called "THE GERMAN WEEKLY MESSENGER."

The "German Weekly Messenger" will contain all the latest Home and Foreign News, and is to be devoted to the advancement of Immigration to the Southern States, Home Industry, Agriculture, Rural Economy, Mechanical Arts and the Fireside.

The paper, like the "Daily Messenger," will be strictly Democratic in politics, and its aim will ever be to encourage Immigration, and to aid in the building up of the Southern States, which must be done at all hazard.

We confidently rely on the Press, and on our friends throughout the Southern States, in whose interest we shall labor in the future, as in the past, to sustain us in this important enterprise. Rates of subscription $4.00 per annum.

WILMINGTON, Sept. 16th, 1868.

Received of the Ætna Life Insurance Company, by the hands of W. H. Crow, General Agent, Three thousand dollars, in full payment of all demands upon the Life Policy of my deceased husband, Larkin F. Bunn. No. of said Policy 48,793.
With many thanks for this prompt payment in the hour of my affliction and need,
I am, respectfully,
HESTER A. BUNN.

Added to the above, may be mentioned another fact, proving the wisdom and beneficial results of Life Insurance, and also the fidelity and good faith in which this old and well tried Company deals with its members.

In less than three years this Company has done more than all others combined, to relieve the wants of the widows and orphans of North Carolina.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

TO THE PUBLIC.

I have just read the "advertisement," published in several papers of the State, of R. Y. McAden, Esq., purporting to be a defence against the charges deemed neces-s-ry to be made against his conduct in compelling the Bank of North Carolina to go into Bankruptcy.

Mr. McAden's defence is no answer to my allegations, and does not tend to remove the force of the causes which compelled the Directors to take that course; and, in my reply, I shall not be diverted from the true issue, by the vagaries of his "advertisement." I am resolved that the public shall not be misled by the many collateral matters which he has introduced, not for the purpose of vindication, but of creating an odium against the Directors, under shelter of which he hopes to find a safe retreat.

In my card, published in the Sentinel of 5th, instant, I stated, in substance, as follows:

That the Directors of the Bank had, for a considerable time before the meeting of the stock holders in June last, in contemplation of its evident inability to redeem its debts at par, adopted the policy of paying to the creditors a definite sum, which was believed to be within its certain, available means, to pay all its outstanding liabilities, and afterwards to distribute among them whatever sum it might perchance further realize from its doubtful assets. Thus, by way of illustration, if the Bank paid to any creditor 35 cents in the dollar, such creditor would be entitled, after paying all other creditors a like sum, to a pro rata share of assets on hand in the final distribution. The Directors were induced to pursue this course, as an act of equal justice to all, and they refrained from going into Bankruptcy, because they believed that the assets of the Bank could be, and would be, more economically and justly administered by the corporation, than by an Assignee in Bankruptcy. I stated that at the meeting in June last, while Mr. McAden was present, this policy was announced as having been for some time past, and would be for the future, the settled course of the Bank, and, there being no dissent expressed, it was regarded as having met the approval and instruction of the Stockholders.

I stated further in my card, in substance, and I now repeat the statement, that I deemed all the Stockholders honorably bound to allow the Bank to carry out this policy, and that notwithstanding Mr. McAden's presence, and presumed acquiescence, he had endeavored to thwart and defeat the policy of the Bank, and monopolise an undue share of its assets, by resorting to the stratagem of getting its notes, transferring them into the hands of brokers in New York, and procuring an attachment against the funds of the Bank in the city of New York, to be taken out in the names of such brokers, they being residents of New York, because it could not bring an attachment in his own name.

The Bank, upon information of this proceeding, made every honorable effort to induce Mr. McAden to withdraw his suit, and to'low out himself the line of policy which he as a Stockholder had endorsed as proper to be pursued by the Bank. These efforts were continued until the hour approached, when the Bank, as the most certain means of defeating his plans, was obliged to go into bankruptcy. This was the course which the Directors were advised to pursue by their counsel in New York. If this shall succeed, the policy of the Bank will be carried out as nearly as possible—if it shall not succeed, the Directors will have done all that they could to make a pro rata distribution of the only Bank in the State, in which the Stockholders are not individually bound, in case of a deficiency of assets.

These allegations in my card have not been answered by Mr. McAden. He has adopted the plan of the scuttle-fish to make his escape. He has muddied the waters for the purpose of concealing himself.—This is so apparent, that I might well decline to notice his "advertisement" any further; but as my reputation is assailed, as well as that of the Directors, I am resolved he shall not have the benefit of the obscurity and confusion, which he has sought to create for his personal security, and I shall proceed to answer every charge which can affect me, or the Directors, as honorable men—premising, however, before I do so, that if the Directors have been guilty of so much corruption and malfeasance in the discharge of their duties, as alleged by Mr. McAden, it is unaccountable and indefensible in him, that he has permitted it to sleep for so long a period of time, and has only become an informer for the public good, when he was threatened with a loss of the fruits of his attempt to get an undue advantage over other creditors of the Bank. Many, if not all, of his charges are alleged to have existed for a considerable time past, and before the last annual meeting of the Stockholders in June, and must have been as well known to him then as they are now. It is therefore inexplicable, why at that meeting, instead of voting as he did for the same board of Directors, he did not prefer charges, or make inquiries into all these matters of criminal mal-administration in the affairs of the Bank, which he professes now so much to lament, and so bitterly denounces.

But, I proceed to notice the charges against the Directors and myself, in his "advertisement:"

1st. I did state to the meeting that a considerable portion of the specie of the Bank had been converted into United States Bonds, and that the reason therefor, was to increase the funds of the Bank by accruing interest. I did not exhibit any written report of the condition of the Bank, but stated the amount of its assets certain, the aggregate of its discounted debt and the probabilities of collection, and illustrated these probabilities by reference to the condition of its debtors in certain localities.

2nd. I am charged with ignorance or corruption, I know not which, in remitting gold to New York, for sale and investment in bonds; as, says Mr. McAden, gold is higher at home than in New York.

My answer to this is simply that it is news to me, that such ever has been or is now the case—it is notorious, that gold sells, always, three or four cents in the dollar higher in New York than it does here—and that every one who buys a United States bond gets it cheaper in Wall Street than he can here.

3rd. I am charged, personally, with neglect, in allowing the bonds, purchased in New York, to remain, for months, in New York, liable to attachment, and, this, too, after I had been warned by an attempt, once before, to attach the funds of the Bank there.

My answer to this is purely personal. I was not aware of such an attempt, and if there be any fault in this, I, alone, am responsible; and my defence is, that I felt secure against the betrayal of the secret, and certainly against the abuse of its knowledge, by a stockholder, however he may have obtained it, until Mr. McAden taught me my folly. I certainly would not repeat it, in any Company in which he was my associate stockholder.

4th. The insinuation that the bonds were left in New York to be attached for the benefit of my friends or any other person, is purely gratuitous, and, if true, would place me in the degraded condition of the creature who could be seduced to betray the interests and honor of a corporation of which he was a member.

5th. The charge that the Bank of North Carolina has been hard upon its debtors, is utterly without foundation, as every Director can well attest, and as every debtor can bear witness. If this were so, why did not Mr. McAden raise his merciful voice in the council of Stockholders against the cruelty of pushing debtors? I do not believe there is a suit in the Sixth Judicial District brought by this Bank. I certainly never heard of a sale made by this Bank. I am a ser not for others.

6 h I am charged with having employed Mr. McAden as my agent to make "raids" on other banks in the State, and he asserts that he and I "have been together in these raids, hand and glove," and that "I have stood in the background and shared the ill gotten gains," and he says if "I deny this, let Yanceyville and Wadesboro speak."

To this I answer, I am utterly unconscious of having employed Mr. McAden to do any dirty or unfeeling work, and of putting him in the foreground, while I stood in the background, and shared the "ill gotten gains."

For myself I say I never had any such business to do, and until this statement from him, I did not suppose that Mr. McAden could have been employed to do such business. He gives himself the character of a guilty man who turns State witness to seek favor. I beg leave to relieve him of such odium. The business he did as my agent, appointed through Thomas Dewey, Esq., was not a dirty work. I know not the means he may have used, but the business itself was honest, and my part of it was undertaken under a sense of duty. It was this: The Bank of Yanceyville being insolvent, went into liquidation and surrendered its assets for the payment of its debts. The Bank of North Carolina held some of its notes, as did Mr. McAden. I was informed that he was going to Yanceyville to receive his share of the assetts then to be distributed, and that he offered to perform the like service for the Bank of North Carolina. His offer was accepted—he received the notes from Mr. Thomas Dewey, and he discharged his duties, so far as I know, acceptably to all parties. I was not aware, until he published it, that this mode of proceeding was called a "raid" or that he had ever acted the part of a "raider." And now let Wadesboro speak.

I had nothing to do with Mr. McAden in my transactions with this Bank. Mr. Thomas Dewey informed me that he was going to Wadesboro' to get paid certain notes of that Bank which he held, and offered to take for collection the notes of the same Bank which were held by the Bank of North Carolina, and which had been taken by the Bank at par in payment of debts due to it. The Bank had held them for a long time, hoping to exchange them for its own notes, in which we had been disappointed, and I gladly availed myself of the offer of Mr. Dewey, surrendered him the notes, fixing no price for them, nor giving him any instructions, but leaving the whole matter to his discretion. What agency Mr. McAden had in this "raid," I know not. So much for the raid on Wadesboro.

7th Mr. McAden says "that as to Mr. Mordecai's statement about compromises, this he has misrepresented. Fortunately for me all the propositions for compromise were submitted in writing," and he calls upon me to publish these letters.

I confess myself at a loss to understand as to what compromises he alludes—but presume it is the offers to compromise his claim. If so, I reply that no letters ever passed between him and myself on this subject, the whole negotiation having been carried on through Mr. Thomas Dewey. If Mr. McAden deems it useful to his defence or assault on me to have published the letters and memorandum of Mr. Dewey on this subject, I will gladly furnish him with copies of all that are in my possession.

8th Mr. McAden asks why "I was so patriotic as to vest so much of the Stockholders' money in worthless paper, and so careful not to invest my own means in the same way." This charge is purely gratuitous. While I dislike to parade my own names before the public, I can truly say that, in proportion to my means, my investments in this "worthless paper" were much larger, and my losses, of course, much heavier, than those of the Bank. Indeed, I do not remember an instance in which investments were made by the Bank in Confederate securities, as a matter of choice. When large amounts of Confederate Treasury notes were accumulated by the payment of debts, and receipt of deposits from the State and the people, in that currency, and no other profitable use could be made of them, they were converted into interest bearing bonds or seven-thirty notes, and thus a large amount of them came into the hands of the Bank. The same may be said with regard to the repudiated bonds of the State of North Carolina—these were received in exchange for, (but not in payment of,) forced loans, made to Mr. Treasurer Courts, who, it called upon, will say, with what reluctance these loans were made, and only in response to his repeated and most urgent appeals.—When the war closed, the Bank had, counting these bonds as assetts, and its discounted notes, an abundance to pay all its liabilities and stock, after scaling the debt discounted in Confederate currency—and, but for the repudiation of the State bonds, and the insolvency of the people, the Bank would have been able to close its business without loss to creditors and left something for the stockholders.

9th. I am asked "why the specie of the Bank was not sold at the close of the war, when gold was worth 50 per cent premium, and invested in bonds then worth par?"

This question is but another instance of Mr. McAden's ignorance of matters, of which he professes to treat, with an air of confident knowledge.

The answer is: 1st. The Bank was not allowed to do any business, whatever, until the Provisional government was established, and a new Board of Directors elected, which took place in August, 1865.

2nd. The charter required the Bank to keep on hand specie to the amount of one-third of its circulation, which was then $1,194,770.—and the amount of specie was $306,234.05—not quite the quota required.

3d. This restriction on the Bank was never repealed, until June 1866—when gold was at a less premium, and United States bonds were higher. The Banks, by an ordinance of that date, were allowed to convert into National currency so much of their specie as they shall deem advisable.

4th. After this, for a considerable time the financial affairs of the country were in such a precarious condition, that the Directors did not deem it safe, till lately, to exchange any large quantity of specie for currency. If this course was a fault, why did not Mr. McAden, as a stockholder, notice and seek to correct it?

10th. The Directors are censured for not starting a National Bank with the assetts of the Bank of North Carolina, and this is preferred as a charge of delinquency in duty!! The Directors were officers chosen to administer the affairs of a Bank of North Carolina, and not those of a Bank of the United States. They had no right or power to annul their charter, and, in defiance of its provisions, create a new Bank. Any such attempt on their part, would have been illegal and dishonest. They were not bold enough to attempt such a thing. Whether it was expedient to engraft a National Bank, on the ruins of the Bank of North Carolina, was a question for the Stockholders, and no for the Directors, to determine. They never considered it in their annual meetings.

If it be a fault that this was not recommended by me, my apology is that I could never see how such a scheme could have been successful. In October, 1865, the Convention repudiated all the bonds of the State held by the Bank, and thereby struck from the Bank assetts at once $700,000. This stroke ensured beyond a doubt the utter insolvency of the Bank. Now how a corporation, hopelessly insolvent, could, under the laws of Congress, undertake the business of a National Bank, upon assets short of solvency by several hundred thousand dollars, and whose circulation was more than three times the amount of its specie, was never within the scope of my comprehension, and without puzzling myself with an insolvable enigma, I thought with the Directory, that the remaining Bank assetts ought in honesty to be appropriated towards its debts, in the same way that an honest broken man should apply the remnant of his fortune to the payment of his debts, and not invest them out of the reach of his creditors, by embarking in a new speculation.

Besides, by the ordinance of June, 1866, it is expressly provided "that the funds substituted for specie shall not be used otherwise than the specie itself could be used under their charters, and the assignments made under the late act enabling the banks of the State to close their business."

But a sufficient and complete answer to this charge, is that in no single instance has a Bank of circulation in the South attempted to organize under the National Bank system, simply because it was utterly impracticable.

11th. I am charged with favoring some of my friends by depositing with them gold to be held without interest.

The manner of stating this fully illustrates the utter recklessness with which Mr. McAden makes his charges.

He knew that these deposits of coin were made to enable the Bank to redeem its notes and not for the private benefit of the Depositees. They were John G. Williams & Co., of Raleigh, Thomas W. Dewey & Co., (composed of Thomas W. Dewey and George W. Swepson,) of Charlotte, P. A. Wiley & Co., of Fayetteville, of which Jno. G. Williams was the other partner, and Edward Cohen, of Richmond, Va., and, during the year preceding the bankruptcy of the Bank, the Raleigh National Bank. Being general dealers in all kinds of Bank notes, they were furnished with a reasonable amount of funds to redeem those of this Bank.

12th. The Directors of the Bank are charged with paying to the Bank of the State of North Carolina, $60,000 at par, which was held in general deposit, while they refused to pay other depositors more than 25 cents in the dollar.

The answer to this charge is, that both Banks being kept in the same house and their business managed by the same officers, the reception of the funds of the Bank of the State was always regarded as a receipt for the special use of that Bank, and in no manner as the property of the Bank of North Carolina. They were regarded as a trust fund, for the redemption of the notes of the Bank of the State of North Carolina, and were constantly so applied—and when it became necessary to sever the connection between the two Banks, the balance of these funds were simply handed over by one Bank to the other.

13th. Mr. McAden says that some parties have been paid par for claims against the Bank.

My answer to this charge is that it is wholly untrue. In no instance has the President or any other officer of the Bank, to his knowledge, acting in his official capacity, or as agent for the Bank, paid more than 55 cents in the dollar, in currency—for the simple reason that by doing so, in a single instance, and to any amount, it matters not how small, the Bank would have been subjected to the payment of a like amount to those note holders with whom previous compromises had been made.—This was ever carefully guarded against.—If, in any instance, any person obtained par for its notes, it was not a transaction of the Bank.

14th. As to the sale of the Banking house and lot in Raleigh, by the Bank of the State of North Carolina to the Bank of North Carolina, it was sold because the charter of the former Bank had expired and it was deemed expedient to convert, as rapidly as convenient, its real estate into money. The latter Bank required a Banking house in which to conduct its affairs, and as a residence for its Cashier. The property was put up at public auction, and, after two or three bids, was purchased by the Bank of North Carolina, at $11,025.—This was not deemed an unfair price, and it is believed the property would bring that sum, if sold now. The purchase was made with an expectation that the house would be occupied for several years, in the gradual winding up of its business, and the interest on the price, it was calculated, would be less than the rent of a suitable building. The Bank, at that time, had no expectation of being driven into bankruptcy.

15th. It is true, as charged, that during a portion of the time, say since 11th. Sept. 1866, the Directors have allowed to themselves a small compensation, (three dollars a day while actually employed in attending the meetings) for their services.—After the Bank became hopelessly insolvent and the Stockholders could evidently have no pecuniary interest in the management, and its business was conducted but for the benefit of the creditors, and to wind it up, it was deemed but fair to compensate their otherwise unrewarded labors. The business seldom required a meeting and no an necessary meetings were ever called. On referring to the minutes we find that, from 11th. Sept. 1866, when the order for the allowance was made, up to 27th. Oct. 1868, when the last meeting was held, there have been in all twenty meetings and the per diem has amounted to the enormous sum of $311. In regard to the officers, the Bank had a President and Cashier at Raleigh and for a time a Cashier at Charlotte. It had an Attorney also,—the other branches and agencies having been long since discontinued and the agents receiving for their compensation only a per centage on their collections.

16th. As to the charge that after paying myself and friends par for claims against the Bank, I, without consulting the Stockholders, by voluntary petition, placed the Bank into Bankruptcy, I am at a loss to know to what Mr. McAden refers: 1st. I had no claim against the Bank except for my salary and I am not aware that any of my friends had any. Very few of the Directors held notes of the Bank, and such as did, long before the Bankruptcy, either surrendered them absolutely, on receiving the current prices, or received the same per centage as other note holders with a like understanding with them.

2d. The Directors hoped, up to almost the last day of the time allotted for the Bank to go into Bankruptcy, that Mr. McAden would listen to the solicitations of compromising his claim upon the same terms as had others, especially as he knew (as he now says) that the consequences would be to tax the Stockholders with enormous fees for assignees and attorneys, amounting to $30,000 or $40,000, and to throw these fees into the hands of the same parties who have grown fat on the Bank since the surrender. If Mr. McAden foresaw these results, then the sole question between the Bank and Mr. McAden is, who has been the greatest foe to the Stockholders, Mr. McAden, by forcing the Bank into bankruptcy, or the Bank, by allowing itself to be forced? The decision of this question I cheerfully submit to all honest men. It is true the Stockholders were not called to determine whether the Bank should go into bankruptcy. In the first place, there was not time left to do this, after the failure of our efforts to compromise. In the second place, the Directors felt satisfied that it was not material to the Stockholder how the Bank was wound up, so it was done honestly; and while he would have availed the consequences of a rapid winding up to a distressed community, he would have been unwilling that Mr. McAden, a Stockholder, should receive, by a short cut, an unjust advantage over all other creditors. In the third place, the Directors deemed that the exercise of the power was both legitimate and urgent, and if it was not legitimate, Mr. McAden can defeat the bankruptcy by opposing it. The course pursued met the unanimous approval of all the Directors, both State and individual, after several discussions at several meetings, at which the Treasurer of the State was present, and fully concurred.

17th. I am invited to call a meeting of the Stockholders for Mr. McAden's gratification.

Does not Mr. McAden know that I am no longer President, and that my power to call a meeting of the Stockholders has utterly ceased? I have no more power to do so than he has.

Mr. McAden has, however, my consent that such a meeting shall assemble at the usual place, and, as I have no concealments to make, I will meet it and answer its enquiries as if I were still President.

18. As to the charge that the same parties who had wasted and squandered the funds of the Bank, would seek to control the appointment of assignee, to the end that they might still further "fatten on its spoils":

I reply that as my purpose has ever been to administer the assetts honestly and economically, the only influence I shall attempt to exert, will be to prevent the appointment as assignee of such persons as have been unwilling to share pro rata the assetts of the Bank, while it was out of Bankruptcy, and whose interests are directly antagonistic to those of the general crediors.

I submit to Mr. McAden to reconcile the going into bankruptcy, whereby all the funds are removed from the control, power and disposition of the President and Directors, with the fact that, by remaining in power, the President and Directors could still have pursued, unmolested, the wasteful and corrupt practices charged upon them, and grown still fatter upon the assetts of the Bank.

How many such sacrifices has Mr. McAden ever made?

This communication has been prolonged to a greater extent than could have been wished, but I have answered the many groundless charges as briefly as I could, to be understood. I have been compelled to omit some matters of defence which another time may afford me an opportunity to bring forward.

And in conclusion I say for myself and my associates in the Directory, that we court and have always been ready and willing to have, a full investigation into my and their official conduct.

GEO. W. MORDECAI.

A SAINTLY SHINDY, ALMOST.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun relates the following of two Radical salats, the ghaplain of Congress and the head of the Freedmen's Bureau:

The difficulty in the Congregational Church of this city culminated in a personal interview to-day between Gen. Howard and Rev. Dr. Boynton, Pastor of the Church, who casually encountered each other on the street. Gen. Howard commenced the colloquy by saying: "I take this occasion to pronounce all that you have said of me an unmitigated falsehood."

Dr Boynton—"Do you mean to call me a liar?"

Gen. Howard—"I mean what I say, and pronounce your statement as an unmitigated falsehood."

Dr. Boynton—"Then you mean to call me a liar?"

Gen. Howard—"Yes, sir! I say that you have lied."

Dr. Boynton—"If, sir, you had two arms I should thrash you for insulting me."

Gen. Howard—"Never mind my arm; try it and thrash me if you can."

At this point the reverend gentleman turned away from the belligerent member of his congregation, and will no doubt report the facts of the interview to the "mutual council," which has been summoned to consider and settle, if possible, the unfortunate difficulties now existing in this congregation.

SUFFRAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The late Mr. C——, an extensive iron-master in Lancaster Co., Penn., on election was in the habit of having his hands driven in a wagon to the polls, and then, without giving them the trouble to get out, handed in their votes himself, giving in their names as he did so, thus: "This is Peter Hummel's vote; this is Jacob Miller's vote; this is Casper Weber's vote," and so on until he had voted for all in the wagon. The wagon was then sent off for a fresh load, and when it arrived the same ceremony was gone through with them. It is still the custom in Pennsylvania for iron-masters and all other manufacturers to compel their hands to vote as their employers please, but Mr. C—— was probably the only one of his day who put in their votes himself.—[Exchange.

This sort of voting in October and November carried Pennsylvania against the Democrats. What led to it in part was the act of the present Congress taking from $65,000,000 to $80,000,000 from the manufacturers and putting it upon consumers.—This was done after the failure of Morehead & Co., to impose additional duties upon foreign goods. The Radicals think it a horrid thing to change a negro vote from a black to a white direction in the Southern States, but esteem it all right to oppress white laborers North who will not vote with their monied masters.—N. Y. Express.

THE U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—The United States Circuit Court for the District of North Carolina convenes in this city on Monday, the 30th. inst. His Honor George W. Brooke, Judge of the District Court, will preside. It is understood that the Chief Justice will not be present at this term of the Court. There are over 300 cases on the civil Docket for Trial and about the same number on the other Dockets. The clerk of this Court, N. J. Hiddick, Esq., has been indefatigable in his labors since his appointment to this office. His records are well kept—no confusion existing in anything committed to his care. He is always at his post laboring from morning till night. The Bar cannot but congratulate themselves upon having such a reliable and faithful officer. W. P. Riddick, Esq., the efficient assistant clerk, is polite and accommodating and his knowledge of the law makes him an invaluable acquisition to the office.—Sentinel and Conspess.

Oxford Female Academy.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will be resumed on Monday, the 4th of January next, under the direction of Miss MARGARET E. MITCHELL, as Principal, aided by Mrs. E. S. GRANT, and other competent instructors.

It is the determination of the Trustees and Principal that this shall be a School of the best grade.

No other guaranty of its character will be asked by those who know Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Grant. But the Trustees deem it right to state that these ladies are daughters of the late Professor Mitchell, of Chapel Hill, and were educated by their father with a view to the profession of teaching; and that they combine, with unusual attainments, a happy faculty for imparting instruction, and a thorough devotion to the business, which they have prosecuted with success for some years.

The undersigned, on behalf of the Principal, will furnish circulars stating terms, &c., on application.

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

PURELY A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES:

Atlanta, Georgia; Memphis, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky.

CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.

Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $230,949.66.

Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantage of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It makes investments at home to good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst and to aid in diverting the resources of our section and to stop the annual drain of over Six Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

NEW YORK.

THE UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

NEW YORK.

Office, No. 69, Liberty Street.

The Original Joint Stock Life Insurance Company in the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the insurance of first-class healthy lives.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE of the STOCK system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the MUTUAL, is a low rate of premium for a stated sum assured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURE, AND CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium for a promised dividend which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT, AND UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

ILLUSTRATION.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the "Universal" the sum of $11,351, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a Company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8,474.

The difference between these sums ($3,277) is exactly the same as an immediate bonus or addition to the policy to be paid by the former office to the holder of the policy in case of the early death of the insured. It is true that if the insured, in an office charging high rates, live long enough, and have his periodical dividends added to his policy, the sum may equal or surpass that above named; but it must not be forgotten that the chance of early death is the very thing the applicant desires to insure against, and consequently the greater the sum immediately secured contingent on this event, the greater the advantage to the policy-holder.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent greater; and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty three and one-third per cent., payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-five per cent, payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan, the full value in assurance of the premium paid is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

THE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

THANKSGIVING.

Thanksgiving day was generally observed in this city, on Thursday last. Most of the places of business were closed during the day. The absence of the Pastors of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist Churches prevented service in those Churches. The Episcopal Church was opened and services were conducted by the venerable Rector, Rev. Dr. Mason. He preached an excellent sermon from Hab., chap. 3, 17th and 18th verses. He elaborated, with force and clearness, the temporal and spiritual benefits enjoyed by our people, which demanded their praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God. In the enumeration of the spiritual blessings, he dwelt with emphasis upon the great love of God to men, in the gift of his Son Jesus Christ, as our Redeemer, as always demanding our highest gratitude and constant thanksgiving.

We hear that Rev. Mr. Pepper, Chaplain of the 40th. U. S. Regt., Colored Troops, preached in the Senate Chamber. We learn that a member of the General Assembly remarked to some of his Radical friends, in reference to the services in the Capitol and the discourse of Chaplain Pepper, that he (the aforesaid member) felt thankful for the gift of the Lord Jesus Christ, as the Savior of the world, but that this seemed to have been overlooked by the Chaplain in his discourse, who did not even mention the name of the Savior, in alluding to the abundant reasons for our thanksgiving, including the "blessings" which Radicalism has secured to this country. The member thought that the mission of Jesus Christ was at least of sufficient magnitude to secure some notice in a Thanksgiving sermon; and so do we.

LATE NEWS.

We condense, from the telegraphic reports, which should have appeared on yesterday, (had we published a paper,), such items as are of interest.

The impression prevails that Gen. Grant will be subjected to all the restrictions which have cramped Mr. Johnson.

The admission of the Democratic Congressmen from Louisiana, chosen at the recent election, is deemed "highly improbable."

E. A. Pollard, brother of H. Rives Pollard, publishes a Card, denouncing the cowardice of the murder, and shaming those who cheered the assasin, when he appeared on the streets after the deed.

Grant's official majority in Nebraska is 4,200.

THE RICHMOND TRAGEDY.—The late tragical occurrence in Richmond, by which H. Rives Pollard lost his life, will not be without good results, if it shall teach the lesson that any immoderate license, on the part of the Press, which wantonly attacks private character or invades the domestic sanctuary, cannot be indulged in with impunity. It is, or ought to be, the universal sentiment, that no fate is unmerited, which befalls the man who assails woman, through the columns of a newspaper, or otherwise. The safeguards which surround the sanctity and reputation of the sex should be of the most solemn and impregnable character.

And yet, while this is the case, the immediate killing of Mr. Pollard is divested of all the extenuation that might have attended it in view of his offence, by the manner in which it was accomplished. To shoot a man down from a place of skulking concealment, without affording him a moment of premonition, is nothing more nor less than a cowardly assassination, which deserves the severest penalty of the law.

A FATAL TRAGEDY.—The Rutherford Vindicator, received on yesterday, learns, through private channels, that a deplorable affair occurred in Marshall, Madison county, on last Monday. A Mrs. —— approached a young woman, who resides near the village, and asked if her name was ——. Being answered in the affirmative, Mrs.—— plunged a knife into the breast of the young woman. It then transpired that the unfortunate creature was the sister of the intended victim, and that, in a passion of jealousy, the fatal deed was committed.—The murderess is now in jail at Marshall.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See notice of dissolution of copartnership between Messrs. Joseph and Costine. Mr. Joseph will continue to keep up the Restaurant, as before the copartnership.

We call attention to an error in the advertisement of the Bucktesbury property, (Thos. Goode Tucker, Esq., Gaston.) It conthins 3,000 acres, instead of 300, as erroneously printed. It is a highly valuable property, and offers fine inducements to a man of business capacity and energy.

See announcement of Wm. R. Utley and Geo. W. Dougherty, Bankers and Brokers, No. 11, Wall St., New York. Mr. Utley is a native of North Carolina, and was, for eighteen years, a merchant in Wilmington, —thereby acquiring an intimate knowledge of the value of Southern securities. We can confidently commend this House to the public confidence, and are assured that their facilities are all that could be desired.

The exercises of the Oxford Female Academy will be resumed on the 4th. of January, under the auspecies of Miss. Margaret E. Mitchell, Mrs. E. N. Grant, and other competent Instructors. Both of these ladies are daughters of the late Prof. Mitchell and possess the most eminent qualifications.

THE ADJOURNED Immigration Convention assembles in Goldsboro, to day. We hope to hear that it is well attended, and we look for the best results from its deliberations.

DISTRESSING DEATH.—We learn that the horses attached to the stage between Warsaw and Fayetteville, on Monday night last, when in the neighborhood of Owensville, ran away. A passenger, Henry M. Giles, of Baltimore, who was riding on the seat with the driver, was thrown off, and, the wheels of the stage passing over him, he was instantly killed. There was a passenger in the stage, a friend of Mr. G., who was unhurt, and who returned with the body of his friend to Baltimore.

Mr. Giles was a native of this State, and passed his boyhood and the earlier portion of his manhood in this City. He was the step-son of the late lamented Col. Edw. Yarborough. He was a young gentleman of winning presence and of many popular and excellent traits of character. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely death.

A RALEIGH-ITE INVESTING.—The Petersburg Index mentions that the farm owned and occupied by Jas. T. Pope, on the Nottoway river, containing 1,531 acres, (900 cleared,) was sold at auction, on Monday last, and purchased for a gentleman residing in this City, (name not given,) for $5,601.

FINE OYSTERS.—We are indebted to W. H. Lyon & Co., for a present of delicious Oysters. They keep them constantly on hand, of the very finest quality, and at moderate prices. We commend Messrs. Lyon & Co. and their oysters to the community. Their place of business is on Market Square, (Putney's old Stand.)

A CARD.—The attention of all persons interested in the affairs of the Bank of North Carolina is called to the rejoinder of Mr. Mordecai, late President of the Bank, to the advertisement of Mr. McAden, published a few days ago in the Sentinel.

BIVALVES.—Our excellent friend, R. K. Ferrell, Hargett Street, has sent us a liberal sample of the fine oysters which he is receiving, every evening. They are luscious and savory. Mr. Ferrell will accommodate the public with his usual liberality. Call on him.

THE TRAGEDY IN PHILADELPHIA—FURTHER PARTICULARS.

It has been stated that a respectable woman named Mary E. Hill had been murdered in Philadelphia, on Sunday evening. The Inquirer gives the following additional particulars:

"About half-past nine o'clock on Sunday night, as Policeman Howard was patrolling his beat on Pine Street, above Tenth, he was hailed by a citizen who resides on Pine Street, directly opposite the garden of the house where the murder was committed, who informed him that something must be wrong at Mrs. Hill's residence, and asked him to make an investigation.

Howard rang at the bell, and it was answered by a man named George S. Twitchell, a son in law of the murdered woman, and who, in company with his wife, (Mrs. Hill's daughter) resided with the deceased, the three being the only occupants of the large and very handsomely furnished house. The officer asked Twitchell what was the matter in the house, when Twitchell replied that a woman had fallen out of the window and killed herself.

The officer then entered and was conducted by Twitchell to the dining-room, on the lower floor, where, stretched out on a settee, was the murdered body of Mrs. Hill, covered with blood and bearing the evident marks of violence about her head, as though she had been struck two or three times with some iron missile.

Twitchell and his wife were then secured and assistance called in, when an examination of the premises was made, and but little room was left for doubt that Mrs. Hill had been foully dealt with, and her body thrown from the second story sitting room window into the graden that adjoins the house on Pine street, for the officers, on entering the sitting room mentioned, found a sofa clotted with blood, and pools of blood on the floor in close proximity to it.

A cushion on the sofa, also, contained blood, and it was torn, as though some blows aimed at the deceased had missed and struck the cushion. The blood was then traced through the sitting room to the window of a small room that adjoins it on the east. The sill of this window was covered with blood, and it was evident that it had been opened and the body thrown into the yard.

An examination of the ground disclosed a large pool of blood directly under the window mentioned, and the congealed condition of this blood when discovered indicated that the body had laid there some time before the officer entered the house.

Twitchell stated that when Mrs. Hill fell or threw herself from the window, he, in company with a servant who came home about that time, went into the yard and carried her into the dining room and laid her on the settee, but did not attempt to explain how the blood came on the sofa and floor of the sitting room up stairs.

Blood was also traced from the sitting-room to the stairway leading down to the first floor, showing conclusively that after perpetration of the murder the murderer went down stairs. A poker was afterwards found in the yard that contained blood on it, and was undoubtedly used to commit the murder.

Twitchell was taken to the eighth ward station house. He had blood on his shirt when taken there. Mrs. Twitchell was retained at the house where the murder was committed, which was held in charge of Sergeant Pennington and a posse of police during the night.

There does not appear to have been any struggle in the room (a neatly furnished one) where the murder was committed, as everything was in order, and the theory is that Mrs. Hill was lying down on the sofa asleep, when she was approached and struck on the head with the poker mentioned, and her body then thrown into the yard. The animus of the murder has not yet been discovered, and it is not known on what kind of terms Mrs. Hill and her daughter and son-in law lived together.

Mrs. Hill was very wealthy, and it is supposed that the murderer or murderers hoped by this unholy means to obtain possession of her money. The social standing of the parties gives an especial interest to the case which, in the horrid distinctness of its details, has hardly, if ever, had a parallel in this city.

A young German of Milwaukee shot himself on Saturday, because an expected remittance from "Fatherland" did not come. The remittance came on Monday, in time to meet the expenses of his burial.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, Nov. 27, 1868.

The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Long presented a petition from certain citizens of Davidson County, praying the General Assembly to enact more stringent laws to prevent the owners of millsites and other streams from damming up the water to such an extent as to injure persons owning property adjoining. Referred to a special Committee of three, Messrs. Long, Forkner and Welker.

Mr. Etheridge presented a petition from many citizens of Currituck, Tyrell and Hyde Counties, praying the General Assembly to form a new County, composed of portions of the above named, to be known as Dare County. Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

By Mr. Winstead: A bill to amend the Charter of the Oxford branch of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Company. Ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

By Mr. Etheridge: A bill to amend Chap. 81, Revised Code. Ordered to be printed, and referred to a special Committee of three, Messrs. Etheridge, Moore and Barrow.

By Mr. Long: A bill relating to laying off exemptions. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. Love: A bill to supply the Registers of Deeds with blank books. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

A message was received from the House, transmitting a bill to authorize the Commissioners of certain counties to issue bonds in sums not less than $100, not to exceed $7000, and the interest per annum not to exceed 8 per cent. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

CALENDAR.

The following bills passed their third reading, viz:

Bill to amend Section 19, Chap. 118, of the Revised Code:

Bill to extend the time within which certain widows may dissent from a deceased husband's will;

Bill to provide for the collection of taxes in Carteret county, for the year 1868.

Bill to amend title 7, section 72, of the Code of Civil Procedure:

Mr. Robbins moved a reconsideration of the vote by which this bill passed, not because he desired to defeat the object of the bill, but he did not like the language. He was clearly of the opinion that Superior Court Clerks should not have judicial powers.

Mr. Barrow held that the bill was constitutional and opposed a reconsideration; and the Senate refused to reconsider.

Bill to incorporate the North Carolina Mutual Home Insurance Company came up on its second reading.

On motion of Mr. Rich, the 7th. section was stricken out and the bill passed its second reading.

Leave of absence was granted to Messrs. Sweet, Burns and Purdie.

On motion, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, Nov. 27, 1868.

The House was called to order at the usual hour.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Pepper.

In accordance with Mr. Stilley's motion of Wednesday last, the Chair announced the following gentlemen as a special Committee on Salaries and Fees, viz: Messrs. Stilley, Bowman, Dixon, Grier and Justice, of Henderson.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Malone offered the following resolution, which lies over:

WHEREAS, It appears, from the report of the Treasurer of the State, that the State of North Carolina is the owner of stocks and bonds in the various Railroads and Navigation Companies of the State, to the amount of $13,241,000: And it appears that of this sum $4,700,500 are due in bonds of such corporations drawing interest, which should be regularly paid into the Public Treasury: And whereas, It also appears, from the message of his Excellency, Gov. Holden, that, on these bonds there is now due the sum of $472,500, as interest, which should be paid to the State: And whereas, large amounts of interest continue to accrue to the state from these corporations; and it being recommended by his Excellency that some mode be provided to insure the payment of both the accrued and accruing interest due from these corporations: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance be instructed to report what legislation is necessary to enable the State to obtain the prompt payment of all the interest upon bonds due from the various corporations to the State; and, if necessary, they are instructed to report a bill for this purpose, and for the purpose of directing the best application of the dividends arising from stocks owned by the State in these Companies and Corporations.

By Mr. Vest: A resolution to give the poor man the same chance to distil brandy and whiskey as the rich man. Lies over.

BILLS.

By Mr. Justice, of Rutherford: A bill to amend the charter of the Judson Female College at Hendersonville. Lies over.

By Mr. Vest: A bill to incorporate the Salem Fire Co. Passed several readings under a suspension of the rules.

By Mr. Barnett: A bill to consolidate the several acts in relation to the town of Salisbury. Lies over.

By Mr. Bowman: A bill to repeal section 558, chapter 1, Code of Civil Procedure.—Referred.

By Mr. Malone: A bill in regard to obtaining license to practice law.

[This bill provides that all applicants, who have had licenses from the Supreme Court to practice law in the County Courts, as they heretofore existed, shall now be allowed to practice law in all the Courts of the State.]

The rules were suspended, on motion of Mr. Malone, and the bill passed its several readings and was ordered to be engrossed.

A communication was received from the Code Commission, submitting a bill to impose a tax on succession to real and personal estate, and to provide for its collection.

On motion of Mr. Estes, the bill was ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Finance.

CALENDAR.

House bill No. 29, (Mr. Matheson's) to provide for the appointment of Entry Takers, was taken up, when,

Mr. Clayton, of Transylvania, moved to amend by inserting a section to provide for the appointment of County Rangers.

The amendment was adopted, and the bill, as amended, passed its third reading and was ordered to be engrossed.

House bill No. 32, establishing a Ferry across Neuse River, in Craven county, was next reached and passed its third reading.

Mr. Sinclair's resolution, instructing the Judiciary Committee to examine the ordinances of the late Convention, to ascertain whether or not any of them require legislative action, was next reached, when

Mr. Sinclair moved to amend, so as to include the resolutions, also, of that body.—He, for example, read some ordinances and resolutions, to which the attention of the General Assembly had been called.

The amendment was adopted, and the resolution, as amended, was adopted.

Mr. Estes' resolution, instructing the same Committee to enquire into the constitutionality of the act passed last session, incorporating the North Carolina Loan and Trust Company, was taken up and adopted.

Here the Chair announced that the Calendar was exhausted.

Mr. Shaver gave notice that he would introduce a bill to amend the act in relation to the fees of Registers of Deeds.

Mr. Graham gave notice that he would shortly introduce a bill in reference to the surrendering by the State the charter of the Fayetteville and Albemarle Plank Road Co.; also, a bill to incorporate the Swift Island Manufacturing Co.

By consent, J. S. Leary, colored, offered a resolution, instructing the Representatives of this State in the next Congress to endeavor to get the disabilities removed from the citizens of the State, who are bassed by the 14th article. Lies over.

By Mr. Ragland: A bill for the relief of debtors.

The bill being read, Mr. R. moved its reference to a special Committee of three, with instructions to report by the second Monday in December next.

The motion being adopted, the reference was ordered.

Mr. French gave notice that he would introduce a bill requiring foreign Insurance Companies to deposit a certain per centage upon the amount of their risks with the Public Treasurer.

By Mr. Argo: A resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to investigate the Code of Civil Procedure. Adopted.

By Mr. Whitley: A resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report, as soon as possible, upon the bill, entitled "An act for the benefit of Securities and Endorsers," which was adopted.

By Mr. Nicholson: A bill to amend an act to amend chapter 59, Revised Code, in reference to Ordinaries and Inns. Referred.

On motion of Mr. Moore, the House then adjourned.

[NOTE.—B. W. Morris, colored, desires to disclaim any attention of saying, (as might be inferred from the report of Wednesday's proceedings,) that any gentleman, who was refused a seat on account of political disabilities, should be deprived of his pay. What he said was that those who knew themselves to be banned had no right to expect to receive pay.]

STIRRING NEWS.

The late eruptions of Mount Vesuvius, in Italy, Mount Hecta, in Iceland; the terrible earthquakes in St. Thomas, etc., are perhaps only the preliminaries to grander catastrophes. They seem to have already commenced, in a remote region, on a majestic scale. The latest news from the Sandwich Islands gives the details of the most terrific earthquakes and volcanic eruptions ever experienced there—putting into the shade the most terrible records found either in history or tradition. Even the proverbially cool philosophers are getting alarmed. Prof. Loomis, of New Haven, begins to consider the earth a very unsafe place to stay on longer, from the fact that the late volcanic manifestations have been so general in their character, that there is no longer any doubt about the theory that all volcanoes have not a local, but a general and common origin in the central liquid parts of our globe, where the most intense heat prevails. In comparison to this interior liquid mass the crust on which we live must be excessively thin. Prof. Loomis thinks it is proved now that these eruptions are caused by water getting into that central fire, where, after having been converted into steam by the heat, it exerts a most enormous pressure on the earth's crust, upheaving, shaking, bursting it open, ejecting the interior liquid mass which we call lava, etc. He thinks there is now great danger of the water in the ocean getting through the crust into that central fire, and, having been changed into steam, at any moment blowing the whole ball to pieces. In fact, he compares our earth to a huge steamboiler, under extra high pressure.

The fate in store for us poor mortals is, in accordance with our learned Professor, the same as that which befell the inhabitants of the planet once existing between Mars and Jupiter. This planet, about fifty times larger than the earth, was from such a cause, it is thought, blown into several hundred pieces; of these ninety seven have been discovered by astronomers; they are called asteroids.—Mining Journal.

[Nevertheless, it is the general belief, that the earth will last a long time yet.]

THE HEBREW RACE.—Late foreign news announces the death of Baron James Rothschild and Jacobin Rossini at Paris—each the foremost man of his age in his department—Rothschild the greatest financier, and Rossini the unrivaled musical composer. They were both of Hebrew blood—which shows that that race, though anathematized, dispersed, villipended and trampled under foot for nearly two thousand years, still possesses wonderful vigor. Nor are these two the only names that illustrate their race. Nearly every department of art and letters in modern times boasts of Israelites as among its noble ornaments. The Prime Minister of England is a Hebrew of pure blood. The great actress, Rachel, belonged to the same stock. German art and literature are covered with their names—Mendelssohn and Jacobi among the rest. In war alone the race is less conspicuous, though it has been said that Massena and Soult—very respectable military characters—were of that race.—Both for genius and success in the world it is a blood that compares favorably with any other extant.—Rich. Whig.

For Ladies' Goods! For Gentlemen's Goods! For Misses' Goods! For Boys' Goods! Ditto for Children!

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMplete. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade, &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a lucky set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but ever, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgement by to buy your goods. I intend to run through this campaign with my motto, to give each and every individual value received for their support!

A fine opportunity for the ladies to exercise their fashionable rights, as well as the gentlemen. Don't stop until you COME TO CREECH'S. You will find me at M. Smith's corner, attending to my business, always ready to give you the worth of your money.

FOR

Our New Great Standard Work,

CHAMBERS'

INFORMATION FOR THE PEOPLE.

The largest, best and cheapest subscription book ever published, and endorsed by all Literary people in Europe and America.

AS WELL TO SUPPLY A MUCH-NEEDED want in our own country by diffusing correct information in a form best adapted to our people as to gratify repeated solicitations from friends to issue an American edition of this valuable work, the Publishers have undertaken the enterprise. The vast amount of illustrated trash that has flooded the country for some years past demands a book of this character, for the benefit of those who wish to read for instruction and entertainment, instead of cheap pictures and sensational newspaper clippings bound up in the form of and sold for books.

This great work is of itself a complete and select Library for every family. Containing over 2,000 closely printed pages, on all subjects of popular interest, from the best authors and especially adapted to the wants of the people. The daily inquiries received as to date of issue give assurances of an extraordinary sale. By applying at once, Agents will secure a choice of territory for a book that will sell to everybody, regardless of sect, party or section. Send for circulars, and see our terms and a full description of this mammoth work. Address

IN RELATION TO THE POWERS AND DUTIES OF CLERKS OF SUPERIOR COURTS.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

SECTION 1. That as this act will be incorporated in the general act respecting the practice and procedure of the Courts, required to be reported to the General Assembly at its present session, by the commissioners appointed for that purpose, it will be printed in the general act and not elsewhere among the acts of this General Assembly, unless otherwise hereafter directed.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of State is required to have the third section of this act, and that portion relating to the Superior Court Clerks, printed at least weekly in four papers published in this State, and the sum necessary for that purpose is hereby appropriated from any monies in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 3. The terms of the several Superior Courts of this State shall begin in each year at the times hereinafter stated, and shall continue to be held for two weeks (Sundays and legal holidays excepted,) unless the business shall be sooner disposed of.
